Description

Oil on canvas. The original painting, which this work faithfully reproduces--even in size--and which belongs to a private collection, was exhibited in 2022 at an exhibition organized by the Museum of Saint Catherine in Treviso. The work depicts the Virgin and Child at the center; on the right are two saints, almost isolated in their spiritual conversation, the one farthest to the right being Saint Catherine, recognizable by her attribute, the cogwheel; on the left is Saint Joseph, depicted with youthful features, likely because he bears a resemblance to the patron. The painting has been restored in the past. It is presented in a gilded frame, in the style of the period. ARARPI0314129
