Description

A beautiful Art Nouveau pendant in 18-karat gold, signed Lucien Janvier, depicting a female face in relief, framed by flowing lines and plant motifs characteristic of the 1900 aesthetic. The pendant is adorned with a pearl pendant. The reverse side allows for the addition of a clasp so that it can also be worn as a brooch. Lucien Janvier was a French designer active during the Art Nouveau period, and several of his figurative jewelry pieces--particularly those centered on the female figure--are documented today. Made in France, circa 1900. Horse-head hallmark. In very good overall condition. Gross weight: 17.20 g
