

Mounted Under Glass: "the Pitcher Goes So Often To The Well"

450 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Parfait état

Description

Mounted under glass, "Tant va la cruche à l'eau" (The more the pitcher goes to the well, the more it breaks), Napoleon III era. Very good condition. The scene here illustrates the medieval proverb "The jug goes to the well so often that eventually it breaks." A must-have.
