

The Faun's Smile -- Small Bronze On Red Marble, Late 19th Century

640 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Bronze

Diameter : 8 cm

Height : 16 cm

Description

A small, spirited bronze figure whose smile immediately catches the eye. Crowned with vine leaves, this small faun with a mischievous smile holds a bunch of grapes above his cup. His pointed ears, curly hair, and expressive face lend character to this joyful evocation of the world of Bacchus. The warm sheen of the bronze complements the veined red of the turned marble base. A decorative piece best appreciated up close, for the pleasure of its details. Whether on a desk, in a library, or among a few carefully selected objects, it adds a touch of whimsy. A wonderful gift idea for a lover of antique bronzes or the world of wine.
