Description

This gouache by the Post-Impressionist painter Alexandre Nozal depicts the rushing current of a mountain stream in the Pyrenees. In the center, a couple and their goats are walking along the riverbank at the entrance to a bridge. At the bottom, the mountain stream appears to be churning. On the left is the artist's signature, "A Nozal."Toward the top, pastures stretch in terraces up to the mountain peaks, beneath a beautiful sky "à la Boudin."A beautiful gouache in a vertical format favored by the painter.Original molded frame (56x29)
