Description

Life-size bust depicting Antinous on a column, 20th century
Monumental, life-size bust depicting Antinous, crafted from cast stone and mounted on a tall fluted column. The sculpture draws inspiration from the classical Greco-Roman sculptural tradition, in which Antinous was depicted as an idealized young man. Created in the 20th century as a decorative interpretation of a classical sculpture. The surface features a patina naturally weathered by the elements, with localized discoloration and signs of aging, in keeping with the character of the work. Some minor damage here and there on the pedestal. Dimensions: Total: 187H x 60L x 40SBust: 87H
