Description

Japanese-style kidney-shaped table - Black lacquered wood with gold decoration - Napoleon III period An elegant kidney-shaped table, crafted from black lacquered wood and adorned with rich Far Eastern-inspired decoration. The scroll-cut tabletop features a lovely Japanese-style gilded decoration, depicting a lively landscape with a pavilion, foliage, and branches. It is accented by a thin brass border. The base opens at the front with a drawer, fitted with a gilded bronze handle. It is adorned with frames and foliage motifs in gilded bronze or brass. The piece rests on four curved legs, joined at the bottom by a crossbar that echoes the undulating shape of the top. The legs are topped with small, gilded decorative feet. An elegant and decorative piece of furniture, characteristic of the taste for Japanese- and
