Description

Round mahogany side table with marble top - Empire Restoration period, 19th century A beautiful round mahogany side table, resting on a substantial central tripod base, characteristic of furniture from the first half of the 19th century. It is topped by an elegant circular top in heavily veined gray marble, bordered by a wooden molding. The central baluster-shaped shaft rests on an architectural triangular base. The three legs are richly carved with volutes, palmettes, and foliage motifs and terminate in remarkable claw feet, lending the piece a great deal of character. A decorative pedestal table with balanced proportions, representative of Restoration period style, which can also be used as a small coffee table or side table. Period: first half of the 19th century Material: mahogany, marble
