Description

Roland Hamon (1909-1987) was a French painter who specialized in scenes of Parisian life. His colorful and vibrant gouaches beautifully capture the bustling energy of Paris's boulevards, markets, and streets in a warm, narrative style that appeals to lovers of French figurative art.This gouache on paper, dated to the 1950s-1970s, depicts a bustling Parisian street scene featuring passersby, Haussmann-style facades, trees, and a green bus. The dynamic composition and colorful palette vividly convey the atmosphere of Paris's grand boulevards. The work is presented in a gilded frame with a mat.Technique: GouacheMedium: PaperDimensions (unframed): 28 × 35 cmSubject: Lively Parisian street sceneSignature: Signed at the bottomEstimated period: Circa 1950-1970Condition: Good
