Description

A so-called "portico" clock in chiseled bronze gilded with mercury, with black and white marble. The finial features an eagle with outstretched wings holding a thunderbolt; the sides are adorned with garlands on a pedestal featuring vases of flowers. The movement is supported by pilasters on consoles and columns; the quadrangular base features a sculpted façade, panels with geometric motifs and rosettes; the base rests on glide feet. The enameled dial, signed "Caillouet à Paris," displays the hours in Roman numerals and the minutes in increments of fifteen in Arabic numerals. The string-wound movement is in working order. Louis XVI period, late 18th century. Dimensions: H 56 x W 38 x D 11 cm. In very fine condition.
