Description

Dating from 19th-century Tuscany, these generous yet delicate terracotta cameos depict gods and goddesses from Greek and Roman mythology; presented unmounted, without glass, on marbled handmade paper within a molded Baroque-style frame made of gilded stuccoed wood. "Castello Di Sammenzza"--a handwritten inventory label on the back for this fine and lovely educational collection, a memento of the "Grand Tour"--showcases a tasteful "Neoclassical" presentation for this curiosity piece of high decorative value.
