Description

An important dessert service in ruby-red glass, likely made in Bohemia for the Ottoman market around 1890-1910. It includes two lidded ewers with faceted pear-shaped bodies and long, arched handles, several stemmed bowls, large serving dishes, and a set of plates with poly-lobed rims. A beautiful, cohesive set, notable for the depth of its ruby color and its elegant floral forms.Composition : 22 pieces 16 plates4 pedestal dishes 2 covered ewers
