Description

A superb Art Deco display cabinet dating from around 1930, elegant and highly decorative, in the style of Jacques-Émile Ruhlmann's designs. Beautiful cabinetwork in Macassar ebony veneer with contrasting grain. Refined decoration featuring fluted godrons gilded with gold leaf beneath the top and above the base. Clean, slender lines; the base features intricate cutwork with Japanese-inspired motifs. Height: 126 cm; Top width: 30 cm; Bottom width: 38 cm. In very good overall condition, with a beautiful patina and varnished finish. The structure is perfectly stable--see photos. An ideal piece for showcasing a sculpture, glassware, or a bronze in a refined interior. Preferably picked up in person or delivery to be arranged.
