Description

A tall, elegant Murano glass floor lamp, emblematic of the exceptional craftsmanship of mid-20th-century Venetian glassworks (in the style of creations by Barovier & Toso or Archimede Seguso). . The Shaft: The slender central shaft consists of an alternating stack of balusters and geometric elements made of ribbed and bubbled clear glass, interspersed with glass elements featuring gold inclusions, creating a superb visual contrast and beautifully capturing the light. . The Base: The entire piece rests on a circular, molded metal base that was once gilded. The gilding, partially faded over time, now reveals a beautiful dark brown patina with traces of gold. . The Lampshade: It is topped by a large, shaped lampshade made of ecru/greige fabric, edged with black braid accented by gold piping
