Description

The lighting on the faces, the height at which the figures are depicted, and the spontaneity of Joseph Bail's brushwork all help immerse us in this intimate scene and almost allow us to hear the whispers of the conversation. Joseph Bail, born on January 22, 1862, in Limonest and died on November 28, 1921, in Neuilly-sur-Seine, was a French naturalist painter. WIKIPEDIA: https://fr.wikipedia.org/wiki/Joseph_Bail Original oil on canvas, 24x19 cm, in good condition, small format. Period frame, 32.5x27 cm, in fair condition. An inscription on the back on the frame crosspiece but unreadable (last photo). It must be the painting that was sold on 08/17/1995 at Deauville Auction N°107, and went for EUR2,439 (16,000 FRF).
