Description

Béla Czóbel (1883-1976) was a major 20th-century Hungarian painter, known for his sensitive expressionism and his warm, vibrant palette. Trained in Paris among the Fauves, he developed a personal style imbued with humanity, in which figures blend into their surroundings with a gentle melancholy.This work on paper, created using mixed media with oil paint and highlights and shading, depicts two figures seated in an interior. The muted tones and sketched outlines lend the scene an intimate and contemplative atmosphere, characteristic of the artist's mature period.Technique: Mixed media on paperSupport: PaperDimensions: 35 × 45 cmSignature: SignedCondition: GoodPeriod: 20th centuryThis work is offered by PACART after verification of its authenticity and stylistic
