Description

A lovely pair of rosewood wall corner cabinets in the Louis XV style, dating from the Napoleon III era, circa 1860-1870. Each corner cabinet features an elegant scalloped shape, composed of three corner shelves, accented by delicate gilded brass moldings with beaded decoration. The rosewood veneer displays a rich and contrasting grain, accentuated by the piece's curved lines. The brass ornamentation adds a touch of refinement characteristic of Second Empire decorative furniture. These small corner cabinets are ideal for displaying porcelain, objets d'art, or collections, while adding an elegant touch to a classic interior. Dimensions: 62 cm high, 36 cm wide, 25 cm deep. In perfect condition. Carefully and securely packaged; fast shipping with insurance and tracking.
