Description

Antique miniature polychrome earthenware chest of drawers shaped like a tulip vase, probably from Nevers. The front features a trompe-l'oeil design resembling a small chest of drawers, with three drawers painted yellow, outlined with brown bands and adorned with small blue motifs resembling handles. The decoration is complemented by small flowers in relief, green scrolls, and blue motifs on the sides. The upper section features several openings designed to hold flower stems, transforming the object into a tulip vase. The top is decorated with a speckled pattern in shades of green, yellow, and brown. .Probably a 19th-century piece from Nevers. Dimensions: height 12 cm; width 22.5 cm. In very good condition
