250 EUR

Signature : Le Tanneur Paris

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Leather

Diameter : 15cm

Height : 41cm

Description

A rare and elegant articulated or geometric desk lamp from the renowned leather goods house Le Tanneur. Characteristic of 1970s modernist design and directly inspired by the work of Jacques Adnet, this piece combines the brand's leathercraft expertise with highly architectural metalwork. Materials: Genuine tan/cognac leather covering accented with white saddle-stitching, and brushed metal/anodized aluminum elements. Design: Straight lines and a highly graphic, angled structure. Base: Rectangular base covered in leather with a metal border, featuring a push-button switch on the front. Markings: Signed "Le Tanneur" (stamped on the underside of the base). In good cosmetic and working condition.
