Description

Tribal sculpture depicting a family group from the Makonde tribe. Small, hand-carved sculpture made of tropical hardwood, depicting a family in Mozambique. This type of wood carving symbolizes harmony, unity, and family bonds. This unique style is characterized by slender, stylized figures, with elongated necks, whose bodies blend organically into a single solid block of hardwood. The heads of the female figures are sometimes adorned with subtle painted details imitating traditional headscarves. 9 cm wide, 5 cm deep, and 26 cm tall. Tribal art of the Makonde tribe in Mozambique.
