Description

An elegant Danish teak secretary desk attributed to Børge Mogensen, emblematic of 1960s Scandinavian design. A piece with clean, perfectly balanced lines, crafted from magnificent teak with warm tones and a particularly decorative grain. The top opens to reveal a generous workspace, complemented by small drawers and storage compartments. The fold-down top allows this piece to be easily transformed into a desk while maintaining, when closed, an elegant and very clean silhouette. The front, featuring integrated wooden handles, rests on tall, tapered legs that lend it a beautiful sense of visual lightness. A piece that is particularly representative of Børge Mogensen's aesthetic, emphasizing functionality, high-quality materials, and simple lines. In very good condition, with a
