

Sideboard, Display Cabinet, 19th-century Walnut Renaissance-style Piece

680 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Walnut

Description

Renaissance-style walnut silver cabinet--19th century
A very beautiful Renaissance-style walnut silver cabinet from the 19th century, featuring elegant design and richly carved decoration. The upper section serves as a display case and opens with a large glass door. The sides, also glazed, allow plenty of light into the interior and provide an excellent setting for displaying collectibles. The interior features several shelves. The display cabinet is framed by fluted and carved columns and topped by a large molded cornice, which is in turn crowned by a beautiful, finely carved openwork gallery. The middle section features a trompe-l'oeil facade simulating a drawer, adorned with a bronze handle. This section is fixed and does not open. The lower section opens with a large door featuring molded panels, adorned in

Dealer

Galerie Christophe Elisabeth

Galerie Christophe Elisabeth

Mobile : 06 99 48 80 76

1 domaine de Montrabech

Lézignan-Corbières 11200

the center with a remarkable mascarón carved in high relief. The fluted column-like stiles and the various carved motifs are characteristic of the Renaissance style, which was highly popular in the 19th century. The piece features a beautiful, warm walnut patina and serves as a particularly decorative display cabinet. Period: 19th century Style: Renaissance Material: walnut Dimensions: Height: 239 cm Width: 90 cm Depth: 58 cm