Description

A lovely 19th-century portrait of a woman on paper mounted under glass in an oval gold frame. The reverse reads: "Marie Saint-Ange Lege, née Archdeacon, mother of 2 ??? Hebert. 1814-1848". This refers to Louise Marie Charlotte Archdeacon, who married Saint Ange Lege--a lawyer in the King's Council--in 1834; they had two children, Gustave and Jeanne Charlotte. The Archdeacon family is a lineage of Irish origin that settled in France in the 18th century. The mention of "Hebert"--is this the painter's name? 18k gold frame; no hallmark, but it has been tested. The figurine is in very good overall condition. 3.5 cm high x 3 cm wide
