Description

Round side table in brass and smoked glass - 1970s Elegant side table or coffee table in the neoclassical style, likely dating from the 1970s-1980s. It features a particularly decorative frame combining gilded brass and black legs, accented by brass rings and turned brass elements. The base is joined at the bottom by an elegant brace formed of four arcs, creating a lovely geometric rosette-shaped design in the center. The upper section is encircled by a wide brass ring and supports a circular smoked glass top, which lends lightness and transparency to the entire piece. A decorative piece with an elegant design, typical of the chic furniture of the 1970s, which can be used as a side table, pedestal table, or end table. Period: circa 1970-1980 Materials: brass, black legs, and smoked glass Dimensions:
