Description

A charming and luminous composition (watercolor, pencil, and gouache) by the artist Henry Cheffer (1880-1957), a French painter, printmaker, and illustrator, and cousin of Auguste Rodin. Henry Cheffer is particularly famous for his scenes of everyday life in Brittany, his seascapes, and his folkloric and religious scenes. This work depicts the famous Pardon de Notre-Dame de Tronoën in Saint-Jean-Trolimon with great finesse and skill. It depicts the majestic 15th-century Gothic chapel and a crowd of worshippers in traditional Bigouden costumes, gathered around the Calvary, bathed in soft light. This work is in very good condition, despite a few small foxing spots in the sky. It is sold in its original frame and is ready to hang. Dimensions with frame: 55.6 x 44.5 cm. Dimensions of the
