Description

Oil on canvas. 18th-century French school. The elegant lady poses draped in a green velvet cloak trimmed with fur, gold braid, and lace; languidly resting one arm on the marble balustrade behind her, she holds a small dog on her lap, which also appears to be posing. Restored and relined in the late 19th century, the painting currently shows some slight flaking of the paint. It is set in a late 19th-century gilded frame, which also has some areas where the gilding is missing or flaking. ARARPI0304854
