Description

A 1960s English-made sideboard crafted from teak, representing a perfect example of functional and elegant 20th-century design. Characterized by a linear structure, the piece features drawers on both sides and a central drop-down door that reveals a convenient interior compartment, ideal for storing various items. The restoration carried out in our workshops has restored the wood to its natural beauty, highlighting its warm grain and rich color. The tapered legs lend a sense of lightness to the structure, making it a versatile piece of furniture for both modern and classic interiors. MOMOMO0296708
