

Louis XIII-style Sideboard In Walnut, 17th Century

980 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Walnut

Description

Louis XIII two-piece walnut sideboard - 17th century
A significant two-piece walnut sideboard from the 17th century, which can be completely disassembled into two parts to facilitate moving and transporting it. The upper section opens with two doors, while the lower section features three drawers in a row and two doors. The four doors are adorned with beautiful molded panels featuring a diamond-point geometric pattern, typical of Louis XIII furniture. The set is complemented by long spandrels, cut-out lock plates, and drop-down metal handles on the drawers. The upper section is crowned by a large, projecting molded cornice. The interior of the two sections offers ample storage space with its shelves. This piece features a beautiful antique patina and retains the marks and signs of use.

Dealer

Galerie Christophe Elisabeth

Galerie Christophe Elisabeth

Mobile : 06 99 48 80 76

1 domaine de Montrabech

Lézignan-Corbières 11200

characteristic of its era.Period: 17th centuryStyle:

Louis XIIIWood: walnutConstruction: two

separable sectionsHeight: 179 cmWidth: 177

cmDepth: 42.5 cmAn authentic and imposing two-section Louis XIII sideboard in walnut from the 17th century, notable for its diamond-pointed panels and beautiful proportions.