Description

Watercolor - View of St. Petersburg in the Snow
A charming watercolor on paper depicting a winter view of St. Petersburg, featuring the majestic St. Isaac's Cathedral and its imposing golden dome. In the foreground, two elegant streetlamps frame the composition, while the snow-covered buildings and trees create a peaceful atmosphere characteristic of Russian urban landscapes in winter. The artist uses a palette of soft tones, blending ochres, grays, and blues, accented with touches of gold. The artwork is mounted under glass in a modern, gold-leaf frame with a classic style. Condition: Watercolor showing some signs of age and wear. The modern frame shows wear, small areas where the gilding is missing, and visible damage, particularly along the edges (see photographs). Dimensions: 33 × 26
