Description

A polychrome plaster sculpture from the early 20th century, featuring vivid colors, depicting the Sacred Heart of Jesus, standing and blessing with his right hand, while his left hand points to his flaming, radiant heart, surmounted by a cross. The sculpture features striking polychromy, with a red cloak edged in green, a light-colored tunic, and a gilded heart. The detailing of the face, hair, and drapery reflects meticulous craftsmanship, characteristic of early 20th-century religious statuary. Christ, though bearing the symbols of the Passion, is here radiant with life. Dimensions: 75 cm by 28 cm In good condition Reference 920
