Description

A Venetian blown-glass chandelier dating from the mid-19th century, made in Murano. This piece features eight lights, supported by curved arms that intertwine harmoniously with rosette-shaped pendants and cascading leaves. The transparent glass is enhanced by delicate golden hues, lending it a timeless elegance. The upper part of the chandelier consists of a canopy of alternating leaves and flowers, culminating in a globe decorated with floral motifs. Murano craftsmanship is evident in every detail, making this chandelier a perfect example of artistic mastery. Features 8 E14 bulbs. Product condition: This lamp, due to its age and wear, may require restoration and likely has an electrical system that does not comply with current regulations. We strive to present the lamp's actual
