of Fine Arts in Brussels. She is particularly renowned as a distinguished Belgian watercolorist and printmaker, having distinguished herself through her landscapes in gouache and watercolor. Her works often capture sobriety and charm the atmosphere of European cities and villages; she has also depicted charming landscape scenes (notably her landscapes of Brabant); the artist often favors urban and rural landscapes bathed in soft light. Her art tends toward a form of poetic realism in pursuit of idealized expression.

Suzanne Cocq paints modest subjects, which she imbues with a singular sense of bliss. If you have any questions, we are here to help. _____
