Each side table presents a quadrangular brass structure with tapered uprights, surmounted by seed finials and ending in small bun feet. Two clear glass tiers set into moulded frames articulate the height, offering a double display surface while preserving the visual lightness of the whole. This Neoclassical restraint -- straight lines, slender proportions, polished brass -- is characteristic of the productions of Maison Jansen, the great Parisian decorating house founded in 1880, supplier to royal courts and the most prestigious residences. Its small movable brass and glass furniture ranks among the most sought-after on the market. Condition report: Good overall condition. Brass with a beautiful even gilt patina. A timeless pair, framing a sofa or as refined bedside tables.
