Description

An elegant pair of Louis XVI-style armchairs, made in Italy, from a Piedmontese workshop, dating to the late 19th century. The frame is made of lacquered and gilded wood, finely crafted, with fluted legs, uprights, and armrests embellished with ornamental and floral motifs. The elegant and harmonious lines are typical of furniture inspired by Louis XVI designs. The armchairs retain a beautiful patina of age and are upholstered with the original period fabric, an elegant material featuring refined floral motifs, which covers the backrest, seat, and armrests. The upholstery, with its natural patina, contributes significantly to the charm and authenticity of the pair. The spring-based padding is still very firm and well-supported, with no sagging. A pair with great visual impact, ideal for classic interiors,
