Description

A Tibetan figure of Vajrasattva in gilded bronze, from the Himalayan region and dating from the 19th century. The bodhisattva is seated in meditation, holding the vajra and bell in accordance with the iconography of Dorje Sempa. The copper-rich bronze retains its original fire-gilding as well as a historic Nepalese inspection seal. The surface shows patina, wear, and localized losses consistent with its age; the piece is in the condition of an antique, with no reported cosmetic restoration. Height 40.5 cm, width 27.5 cm, weight 5.4 kg. Reference: SKU 724.
