

Michèle Luzoro (biot, France) Blown-glass Perfume Bottle, 1992

120 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Glass paste

Description

An ovoid piece with a flattened body, topped by its original stopper drawn out into a transparent, pear-shaped point. Mouth-blown, multi-layered glass. It features a sophisticated internal design with geological and organic motifs in shades of coral pink, ochre, and black, enhanced by rich inclusions of copper flecks and glittering enamels that create a unique, sparkling texture. Total height: 17 cm; Width: 9 cm. Perfect condition; signed "Luzoro 1992" at the base.

Michèle Luzoro (born 1949) is a native of Biot. Her passion for blown glass grew out of her relationship with master glassmaker Jean-Claude Novaro; together, in 1977, they founded a studio bearing his name, focusing primarily on unique art pieces. In 1982, following their separation, Michèle Luzoro retained the studio and, assisted

Dealer

LA COMTESSE G

Antiquités

Mobile : 0767281188

32 rue docteur Claussat

Clermont-Ferrand 63100

by two accomplished glassmakers, launched her own creations--ranging from decorative glassware to unique art pieces. Her work has focused largely on color harmony and feminine forms. Thirty years of passion for the craft have followed--a passion crowned with success.