Description

Pair of soft-paste porcelain pedestals from Mennecy--18th century
A rare pair of small, faceted soft-paste porcelain pedestals from Mennecy, dating from the 18th century.

[1]Octagonal in shape with a flared, stepped design, these pieces feature the milky, translucent glaze so characteristic of the famous manufactory under the patronage of the Duke of Villeroy. Each pedestal displays a charming floral design painted in naturalistic style on all four sides. They showcase the fine craftsmanship and purple hues typical of the Mennecy style. Historically, these period pieces served as decorative bases for small figurines or table cups. The letters "DV" (Villeroy) are stamped in relief on the underside of the base.
