Manufacture Honoré - Antique White And Gold Porcelain Chafing Dish, Restored - Signed

210 EUR

Signature : Manufacture Honoré, sucesseur de Dagoty

Period : 19th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Porcelain

Description

White porcelain chafing dish with side handles and gold trim, gilded with fine gold. One of the handles is hollow, allowing boiling water to be poured into a double bottom to create a "warming dish" or "dish warmer" and keep food served in this dish--or on another dish placed on top of it--warm. The design is very clever and original. Our piece bears the signature of the Manufacture Honoré on the underside, in iron red. E. HONORE, Boulevard Poissonnière, Paris Manufacture de CHAMPROUX, Allier. Restoration period, circa 1825-1830. The Honoré Manufactory, successor to Dagoty, was a Parisian porcelain manufacturer initially located on Boulevard Saint-Antoine, then on Boulevard des Poissonnières in Paris. Édouard Honoré had a workshop in Paris and, beginning in 1824, transferred the production of unglazed porcelain to Champroux, in the Allier department, while retaining his Parisian workshop for decoration. Our platter dates from this period. It is in excellent condition--over 200 years old and virtually like new. The gilding shows no wear, and there are no chips or cracks. We are selling several pieces from a dinner service produced by the Honoré Manufactory. Width including handles: 35 cm
