Description

Refined chest made of solid walnut, finely carved and painted in lean tempera. The chest features a rectangular shape with a molded base and a frieze decorated with carved dentils beneath the top. Its rich aesthetic appeal derives from the painted decoration on the sides and front, evoking stone masonry, while a carved fountain mask adorns the center of the front panel. The piece retains its original lost-wax cast bronze locks, which open to reveal an interior featuring a small internal compartment. This is a chest of great taste and sophistication, capable of adding a touch of class and antique charm to any setting. Typical Florentine
