Description

Louis XV-style kidney-shaped bureau plat (flat-top desk) featuring rosewood marquetry and gilt-bronze and brass mounts. It opens via three frieze drawers. Notable features include brass banding, gilt-bronze sabots, and a shaped (contoured) top. Dating from the second half of the period, it shows minor signs of age-related restoration and maintenance, including some veneer repairs along the edges of the legs. It comes with two keys: one for the central drawer and another for the side drawers. A protective beveled glass top is included. Varnished finish. Please contact me regarding transport and shipping.
