Description

830-thousandths silver champagne bucket - Belgium, circa 1910. 830-thousandths solid silver champagne bucket, Belgian craftsmanship from the early 20th century, circa 1910. Cylindrical in shape and slightly flared, the lower portion of the body features a regular pattern of engraved twisted ribs, creating a sense of continuous movement across the silver's surface. The upper section is encircled by a wide frieze featuring a vineyard motif, crafted using repoussé and engraving techniques, alternating vine leaves and grape clusters against a finely detailed background. A second frieze of foliage motifs highlights the upper rim and completes the composition. On each side, the bucket is fitted with a movable silver handle, hinged on a lion-headed mascarón rendered in relief. The
