Description

Here is a beautiful Art Deco-style period chandelier. It was manufactured in Belgium around 1930. This model perfectly illustrates the fusion of the modernist movement and the ocean liner style. It is--which has become quite rare--in perfect original condition (for its age). In fact, it has retained both its original chrome plating and period paint, as well as all its hardware and sandblasted glass shade. The entire chandelier has been thoroughly cleaned, and the chrome has been repolished. It is fully functional as a light fixture. Its modest yet comfortable dimensions give it a real decorative presence once installed on the ceiling. This is, therefore, a beautiful piece that is both decorative and useful--and, thanks to its excellent condition, a faithful testament to a creative and refined era--all for a price that is, all
