Description

Magnificent rectangular carved gilded wood trumeau mirror. Dated to the late 18th century to early 19th century. Can be hung or placed on a console table. It is topped by an openwork pediment with a central medallion set against a dark background, decorated with two birds in relief, surrounded by laurel garlands, and topped with a ribbon bow. Molded frame with beading and straight legs carved with interlocking cubes and plant motifs. Beautiful original patina with antique gilding worn by time, giving it all its charm and authenticity. Ideal for adding a refined, classic, and elegant touch to your home. Please feel free to contact me for more information, and add us to your favorites to stay updated on our latest arrivals!
