Description

Louis Philippe-era glass-fronted bookcase in solid cherry wood. An elegant, beautifully presented two-door bookcase dating from the 19th century. The piece features an ornate front with two glass doors, each opening onto an interior fitted with several shelves. The interior is modular, and the shelves are adjustable via sliding rails. The upper section is crowned by a molded cornice with a scalloped profile, also known as a "doucine", giving the piece a particularly elegant presence. The piece rests on "clog" legs, typical of the Louis Philippe style. The interiors are meticulously finished and glazed. With its proportions, construction, and decoration, this bookcase is representative of 19th-century French furniture. Period: 19th century Style: Louis-Philippe Material: solid cherry
