Description

20th-century style inspired by the 16th century
Antique-style column
Sculpted rock crystal (pure hyaline quartz)
H. 17 cm
Our antique-style column is crafted from rock crystal, with a square base and a fluted shaft. Our piece is clearly inspired by European Renaissance art. Widely used during that period due to its transparency and the theory of the syncretism of light, it could be "mounted" and transformed into a water pitcher or a cup, or incorporated into cabinets of curiosities.
