Description

A heraldic plaque carved in high relief from solid wood, depicting the coat of arms of Alberndorf im Pulkautal, a municipality in Lower Austria. It features an upper ribbon bearing the name of the municipality, rich wine-growing and agricultural motifs including grapevines, bunches of grapes, ears of grain, wine vats, and wine press stones, as well as two crossed keys in the lower section. Precisely dated "April 1972" on the back, this significant piece of Austrian folk art reflects the municipality's wine-growing and agricultural heritage. In good overall condition, with some signs of wear. Ready to hang thanks to the mounting hook on the back. Dimensions: H 39 × W 28 × Thickness 3 cm. Weight: 2 kg.
