Description

Plans of Villa La Perolliere, located in Saint-Pierre-la-Palus, Rhône. A collection of several plans drawn up and signed by Gaspard André, an architect from Lyon. Tracing copies of various sections of the villa are included. Plan of the entire complex, in ink and watercolor. Signed by the architect G. André and dated 1882. Width: 95 cm; Height: 65 cm. Félix Mangini, owner of the La Pérolrière estate, commissioned the talented Lyon-based architect Gaspard André--whose works in Lyon include the Théâtre des Célestins and the Place des Jacobins fountain. André had the old bourgeois residence demolished and oversaw the construction of the farm in 1885, followed by the château, which was completed in 1889; its Florentine style reflects the influence of the architect's earlier time in Italy.
