

Large Imari Dish With Fluted Rim, 19th Century

380 EUR

Signature : imari

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Porcelain

Description

A large, elegant round dish with fluted rim, made of Japanese porcelain with Imari decoration; it is remarkable for the richness of its design and the brilliance of its colors. The center of the dish is adorned with an elegant floral motif, surrounded by a broad band of stylized floral and foliage scrolls divided into eight sections. The design is beautifully highlighted by the characteristic color palette of the Imari style, combining a deep cobalt blue background with iron-red glazes. The reverse side is equally well-crafted, decorated all around the rim with bouquets of flowers painted in blue, adding a refined finishing touch to this beautiful piece. This dish is preserved in perfect original condition. The colors have retained all their freshness and brilliance. A truly beautiful collector's piece, as decorative as it is elegant,
