Description

A glazed porcelain group consisting of two cherubs or putti, signed Falconnet; the cherubs, adorned with garlands of roses, are playfully wrestling to crush a heart. A charming subject in the style of the 18th century. Étienne Maurice Falconnet was one of the great sculptors of the 18th century; he was born in 1716 and died in 1791 in Paris. His body of work spans the 18th century, and he was a master of both the Baroque and Neoclassical styles. His connections with François Boucher led him to meet the Marquise de Pompadour, the king's mistress and patron of the arts. Careful shipping worldwide
