Description

Sculpture made of iron and welded metal, created by the renowned Bordeaux-based visual artist Robert L  ris (1928-2009). Similar in artistic approach to C  sar and Jean Tinguely, L  ris is known for his sculptural works created through the assembly and transformation of metals. This work stands out from the artist's usual body of work due to its iconography explicitly linked to Freemasonry. In perfect condition, with a sound structure and original patina. Unsigned but with excellent provenance, which I will provide to the buyer. Height: 43 cm
